GEAR PATROL

Easton Power Sensor by Blast Motion

Easton's new Power Sensor has been in development for a long time but it is finally ready to come to market. The small sensor that attaches to the end of your baseball bat feeds realtime data to your smartphone to help you analyze your swing and improve your performance.