The Blast Athletic Performance Precision Motion Sensor captures your action metrics (acceleration, vertical height, rotation, and hang time), recording the outcome before syncing with Blast app's BlastCam, capturing "Blast Highlights," videos that can easily be shared online through social media which feature an overlay of your metrics.

This nifty tool, which easily clips onto your waistband, is ideal for the active iPhone 6 user who wants to show off their skills on Facebook. Basically, if you know someone who doesn't post a status update without mentioning that they've been to the gym, this is the gift for them.
